

The presentation gives overview of control system development in ELI Beamlines. ELI Beamlines uses TANGO framework for distributed control system as a basis but also provides interfaces required by research community. Good example is TANGO – LabVIEW bridge which is significant issue in the community. We would also discuss approaches to generic programming and Application interfaces.